(THE STORY) A group of the Italian underground led by Paolo Macdonald is making a second attempt to land carrier pigeons on a desolate stretch of beach near Rome. At the same beach previously, a German patrol interrupted the operation.

Chapter XI

Lying in the sand with their heads barely above the top of the dunes, Luciano and Giovanni, each from his assigned post, clearly saw the four flashes of the PT boat, but following Paolo's instructions, neither of them moved. There were also on the beach, about half a mile north of Giovanni, three other people whose conversation was interrupted by the PT boat's signals. Major Wolff, Lieutenant Schenkel, and a dozen yards beyond them, Wolff's driver, a soldier of the SD who had been motioned away by the Major to prevent his hearing the two officers' discussion. "I had a dreadful time finding you on this beach," Schenkel. "What do you mean being here, and alone? I myself gave you the Oberst's orders to watch the north and the south beaches — he was certain they wouldn't see this beach again after last week — and you have the temerity to leave your command and come here alone. Are you crazy? If I report this to the Oberst, you will either be court-martialed — or worse, you'll find yourself on the Russian front."

"I am sorry, Herr Major. I thought it just possible that the enemy might have guessed that we would not watch this beach so soon after we intercepted them here last week. It is exactly what they did in Norway last year — in Bergensjord."

"If you felt you were wiser than the Oberst, then you should have sent a sergeant here, not left your command. Besides, my dear Schenkel, have you not yet learned that there is nothing more dangerous than proving your superior officer wrong? The word 'wrong' coincided with the first flash from the sea. 'Lieutenant,' the Major whispered, 'my driver has a machine-pistol. Send him down behind the dunes with strictest orders not to fire until they are ashore, or until I have fired.'"

As Schenkel bent over, hurried up the beach to instruct the soldier, Wolff drew out his automatic and clicked off the safety. Schenkel returned, "I have carried out your order, Herr Major."

"Shut! Speak in whispers. I am glad you have a machine-pistol. I have only my Walther. I did not expect to go on the benches tonight."

Giovanni first knew someone was approaching him from the north, behind the dunes, when Wolff's driver failed to see a large patch of dry wood and twigs before he had stepped onto it. Four times his boots crunched the brittle debris. There was no doubt, it was the measured tread of a human being.

Listening for other footfalls, Giovanni turned slightly on his side and pointed his gun toward the sound. I hope it's not a civilian, he thought, come to fish or gather driftwood at this hour. Whoever it is, I shall have to shoot him if he sees me.

The figure loomed over him so close that he could distinguish the outline of a German helmet, and a machine-pistol held at the ready, hardly 10 feet from the muzzle of his gun.

Giovanni fired twice. For a second, the figure stood motionless; then, making loud gurgling sounds, he dropped his weapon noiselessly and, clutching his belly, crumpled down silently and slowly into the sand.

A voice whispered in German, "Down!" Giovanni snapped his eyes and his gun away from the fallen soldier onto the beach. There, hardly 30 feet from him, he made out two figures, their heads pointing in his direction, living prone.

Giovanni took stock of the situation. Except for his eyes and the top of his head, he was shielded by the dunes; they were not. He knew he was facing two men. They did not know he was alone. Controlling the thumping of his heart in his throat, he spoke in his classroom German.

"We have you covered! Stand up immediately with your hands above your head or we will fire." There was a fraction of a second's silence. "And with your own machine-pistol."

"Don't fire!"

"Don't fire!"

When Luciano and Paolo heard the shots, each ignored the agreement to scatter if trouble should occur before the actual landing and ran toward Giovanni's post using the dunes as cover. It was impossible — instinctively impossible — for either of them to abandon the boy to the Germans.

Paolo arrived first. He saw Giovanni outlined against the sky, kneeling on the crest of a dune, pointing the dead driver's machine-pistol toward someone on the beach whom Paolo could not see.

"He was speaking in German, 'Do not face us; face the sea,'" Paolo glanced down and saw the dead German soldier almost at his feet.

"Are you hurt, Giovanni?" he called.

"No, I have two Germans. They surrendered."

Paolo hurried down to the two figures.

"Keep your hands in the air," He spoke to the prisoners in Italian. By the faint light of his flashlight obscured in his hand, he searched them. Except for Schenkel's potatomasher grenade, he found no arms, only military papers.

State Court Favorable to Spa Track

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that the Arkansas Racing Commission acted within its authority when it revoked a franchise for dog racing at Hot Springs.

The 5-to-2 decision apparently means that the Hot Springs Kennel Club has lost its legal fight to race greyhounds at least without filing a new application and having a second referendum election on the matter.

The track may seek a rehearing, but rehearing petitions seldom are granted.

The majority ruling, written by Justice Jim Johnson, reversed Pulaski Circuit Judge Guy Amster. Justices Sam Robinson and George Rose Smith dissented but did not hand down a written opinion.

The franchise, issued in 1958, was revoked in August, 1959, because the commission said the club had "failed to get its house in order" after a dispute arose among directors over a stock sale promotion.

Six directors resigned, leaving as the "main promoters," Milan S. Creighton, Charles S. Harrison and Alex T. Jamison, Johnson wrote.

The opinion continued: "So the picture before the commission was that Creighton and his group, who were supposed to have 20 per cent of the stock to get the show on the road now has 90 per cent of the stock and the treasury is nearly depleted."

"Large sums of money had been and were still to be expended for suspicious and unexplained purposes and the activities of Creighton and his group were such that some of the original

John Willis Retires as Rural Carrier

Friday, September 30, John Willis made his last official trip on rural route 1. When he returns to the post office he hangs his satchel on his desk for the last time.

Mr. Willis entered the postal service as rural carrier at Emmet, Arkansas September 20, 1920. He transferred to rural route 4, Prescott, Arkansas, October 1933 when the late Clinton H. McCuller retired. He transferred to clerk in the P.O. at Prescott April 16, 1936 and later transferred to rural route 1, to a vacancy caused by the retirement of the late J. Brad McGuire. He has served this route to the time of retirement. Mr. Willis has served under six National Administrations, four Republican and two Democratic.

When Mr. Willis began his duties as rural carrier in 1920, the conveyances were horse drawn vehicles and a Model T Ford. The roads were unimproved. Mud and highwater was a problem at that time. In these open conveyances, he faced the cold wind, sleet, snow and rain in the winter season and the dust, rain, storms and cyclones in the summer. He followed the Postoffice Department's motto "The mails go through." In his travel of over 500,000 he has carried thousands of messages of glad tidings and many with news of sorrow and grief. He has observed many economic changes, past 40 years on the routes. He served with six different postmasters: Miss Eka McCough, Lester White and Mrs. Johnnie Hood, Emmet, Arkansas and William J. Vick, Charles A. Smith and J. Harvey Bemis, Prescott.

The time has come for Mr. Willis to step down and out and let another person take over where he left off. He will enter a new life of retirement with all his time his own. He receives the congratulations and best wishes of all his past patrons and the many friends who know him.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 119. At all drug counters.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Cecil Weaver, president of the Hope unit. Color bearers were Mrs. W. H. Gunter and Mrs. M. McCloughan. The pledge of allegiance was led by the Hope unit. The welcome address, given by Mrs. W. H. Gunter, was followed with the response by the Horatio unit.

Mrs. Murray introduced State President Mrs. Fred Formby of Hope and Mrs. Jack Frye of Hot Springs, state membership chairman, who gave a skit on membership. There was open discussion on Poppy Sales, Community Service, Girls State, and Membership.

Mrs. Formby brought out in her message that if for no other reason than four words of the auxiliary preamble, "For God and Country," each should be proud and want to be a member of this great organization, which has a full program of service to our community, state, and nation.

All enjoyed the delicious luncheon served, and the travel prize was won by the Foreman unit. The next meeting will be held in the spring with the Texarkana unit.

Twins Fear Gang War

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

We are twins, age 17. While at the beach this summer, two boys from our class asked us to go for a boat ride. We had known them three years. We accepted.

They gave us a pretty rough time. We had trouble getting them to take us back to the beach. We were back in 30 minutes, but that was the longest 30 minutes of our lives.

There are three nice boys who come to our house all the time. They live in the neighborhood. Since they are a year younger, we don't go with them. But they think a lot of us and we have had good times together. We told them about our unhappy experience. They have now decided it is their responsibility to teach those guys how to behave themselves. This is the last thing we want since we would like the story kept quiet. We talked to our boys but can't change their minds. Please advise us. —The Twins

Dear Helen: You've got a real talking point in the fact that the nice neighborhood boys, though younger than you, long to appear older. That's why they're being Sir Galahads.

Begin by telling them how brave you think they are, then put over the idea that gang fights are kid stuff. A fellow is really grown up when he gets beyond this juvenile approach. Beg them for your sakes because you enjoy their company. (to grow up)

Dear Helen:

My parents are separated. I live with my mother, but would like to live with my father. I know Mother would be ashamed of me for wanting to live with him. She probably wouldn't speak to me if she knew I was writing this letter. I know if I leave she won't even want to see me again. Please advise me what to do. —L. L.

Dear L. L.: There are certain questions you must put to yourself: Whom do you love more—your mother or father?

Write out these questions and your answers. Study the definition of loyalty in the dictionary, then make your decision. If you are guided by your heart and not self, it will be the right decision.

Dear Helen: I am a girl of 13. My problem starts way back. Mother ran away and got married when she was 15. She had me and a few days later my father started drinking. Three years later she divorced him and in the same year married my stepfather and had my sister. Two years later she had my other sister.

My stepfather was sent to Korea. Then she began running around with other men. My stepfather knew about this but made no effort to stop it. For the past years she was a good mother and wife, then when we moved to this Army Post she began receiving phone calls from strange men. If my stepfather answered, they would hang up. She left the state two months ago. Now she is coming back to get us. I don't want to go. Although I love my mother, I love my stepfather just as much. What would you do? My friends tell me to consult the chaplain. —Miserable

Dear Miserable: Your mother rates your compassion but, from what you say, she certainly doesn't qualify as a mother.

Your stepfather evidently supplies the security she fails to provide. This is very important to children, especially girls. By all means see the chaplain. I think he will agree with me that you and your sisters are better off with your stepfather provided he is able and willing to take on the job of being both mother and father to three girls.

At 13, you might even qualify as Little Mother. Pat Nixon, wife of the Republican Presidential candidate, was only 13 when her mother's death gave her the role. She cooked, washed and ironed and kept house for her father and two young brothers. See what you can do!

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Send for "Stepchildren."

Man Pleads Guilty to Bomb Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Samuel Grady Beavers, 40, the last of five defendants in Little Rock's integration-linked Labor Day bombings, pleaded guilty today to a charge of conspiring to place a bomb in the Little Rock Central high school.

Beavers' attorney, Harry Robinson, told the court Beavers "refused to carry out his part of the scheme. He did not touch off any part of the dynamite."

Testimony in the Coggins trial placed Coggins as the one who set off the dynamite at Knapp's office while Beavers waited in a car. The state has contended the five men formed a bomb squad to harass Little Rock for accepting racial integration in high schools.

Coggins, Perry and Lauderdale have appeared in their convictions. A preliminary hearing and transfer to a larger than a grain of rice, has been developed that implicates sound 10,000 times.

Beavers' trial had been twice delayed because of the defendant's illness.

His attorney contended that sentence should be suspended because of Beavers' ill health.

Beavers was a witness for the state in the case, and because he did not carry out his part of the bomb plot.

Ex-Collector Has Started Sentence

GRADY, ARK. (AP)—Ray Owen Grady, former Garland County tax collector, has started serving a prison sentence for misuse of public funds in connection with a now-repudiated shortage of some $21,000 in his accounts.

Owen arrived at the prison Sunday. He was sentenced Sept. 14 to a five-year term, with four years suspended, but his commitment was delayed. A last-minute emergency plea failed Friday.

Owen will be eligible for parole in four months.

Magazine "Free China" was accused of attempting to incite riots and rebellion, and of knowingly providing cover for a Communist agent.

Unitas, Shaw Lead Teams to Important Wins

By MIKE RATHER Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterback George Shaw, long-time heir apparent to a front-line job after serving his National Football League apprenticeship under two pass masters, is making a determined bid for the top berth with the Eastern Division champion New York Giants.

The 27-year-old veteran of six pro campaigns came off the bench with New York trailing 7-0 in the second period and threw four touchdown passes as the Giants walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 35-14 for their second victory without a loss.

Shaw, the understudy to Baltimore's amazing Johnny Unitas before being traded to the Giants, looked over for another year-aging and ailing Charley Conerly after the Cardinals had forged ahead on a 20-yard scoring pass from Jim Roach to John David Crow.

Then, just as he had done against San Francisco last week, Shaw pitched the Giants from behind, flipping a pair of TD tosses to Joe Morrison in the last 3½ minutes of the second period for a lead the Giants never relinquished.

The Cleveland Browns kept pace in the Eastern sector by beating Pittsburgh Steelers 28-20 for their second triumph while Baltimore's NFL champion Colts drubbed Chicago's Bears 42-7 behind Unitas' four touchdown airds and took over the top rung in the West with a 2-0 mark.

The Green Bay Packers beat the Detroit Lions 28-9 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 13-9 in other games.

In the American League, the New York Yanks moved into first place in the East by edging Dallas 37-35 and Denver's Broncos trailed Oakland 31-14 and gained the top spot in the West. Los Angeles trimmed Buffalo 24-10 in another AFL test.

Shaw, completing 15 of 22 passes for 234 yards, pitched 51 yarders to Morrison, then wound up his key performance with 17 and 10-yard TD strikes to Kyle Rote. Mel Triplett bulled 33 yards to the middle for the other New York touchdown. King Hill sneaked 1 yard to round out the Cardinals' scoring before 26,080 at St. Louis' home opener.

Unitas, extending his record TD-a-game string to 39 consecutive regular season contests, opened up with a 66-yarder to Lenny Moore on the first play of the game. He also hit Moore with an 18-yarder and passed 27 to Ray Berry and 43 to Jim Muetschler on other aerial thrusts against the Bears, who had won eight straight over two seasons.

Perry (18-10) pitched a five-hit shutout for Cleveland as the fourth-place Indians defeated the 1959 champion White Sox 4-0. Early Wynn, last year's top winner with 22, was the loser for a 13-12 record. Estrada, a rookie who lost 11, won his 18th for Baltimore Saturday.

Baltimore clinched an undisputed runner-up finish by beating Washington 2-1 on Jackie Brandt's 15th home run in the eighth inning. It was the seventh straight defeat for the fifth-place Senators, who missed the first division by winning only three of their last 19.

Last-place Kansas City beat sixth-place Detroit 2-1.

Baltimore took second place, beating Washington 2-1 while Cleveland defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-0. Kansas City downed Detroit 2-1.

The Pirates, first Buc club to win 95 since the 1925 champs who went on to beat Washington in the World Series, tagged Burdette (18-13) for 15 hits while Wilner (Vinegar Bend Mizell) won his 14th. Mizell gave up six of the Braves' hits in his five innings.

Harvey Haddix finished up. He allowed four hits and one run.

Pete Runnels Takes His 1st Batting Title

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Pete Runnels won his first batting title. A couple of kid right-handers, Jim Perry and Chuck Estrada, were the winners.

And Baltimore's modern-day Orioles finished second, their highest yet.

But the American League champions? The New York Yankees, and no doubt about it.

With Mickey Mantle winning the home run crown with 40, one more than teammate Roger Maris, who took the RBI title with 112, the Yankees broke their AL home run record, gave Manager Casey Stengel his 10th pennant in a dozen years, and finished with a 15-game winning streak—the longest ever for a club headed into the World Series.

The Yankees' pride stung by last season's frustrating third-place failure, bounced back for a 97-57 record, their sixth best under Casey, and crushed Baltimore's surprising bid by winning 19 of their last 21 games.

They finished with a flourish, coming from behind in Sunday's regular season wind up for an 8-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox on a two-run homer in the ninth inning by Dale Long that sent them barreling into next Wednesday's World Series opener at Pittsburgh against the Pirates—Long's onetime teammates.

The Pirates, who clinched their first pennant in 33 years a week ago Sunday, the same day the Yanks put away their 25th flag, finished with a 95-59 record by beating second-place Milwaukee 9-5. In the other NL finales, San Francisco defeated the third-place St. Louis Cardinals 8-2, and the fourth-place Los Angeles Dodgers, 1959 world champs, downed Chicago's Cubs 4-3.

Long, 34, a left-handed hitting first baseman picked up from the Gaisins in late August, batted .366 and drove in 10 runs during the stretch run. His game-winning shot against the seventh-place Red Sox was his third as a Yankee.

far rate at which he is employed, except as may be otherwise provided under this Act.

(c) Beginning two years and ninety days after the date of enactment of this Act and thereafter, no employer shall employ any of his employees for a workweek longer than forty hours, unless such employee receives compensation for his employment in excess of forty hours for that workweek at a rate of not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which he is employed, except as may be otherwise provided under this Act.

(d) There shall be exempted from this Section which relates to an overtime wage any employer and the employees of such employer who are processors or carriers of fruits and vegetables and who are subject to and comply with the provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as amended.

(e) As used in this Section the "regular rate" at which an employee is employed shall be deemed to include all remuneration for employment paid to, or on behalf of, the employee, but shall not be deemed to include:

(1) sums paid as gifts, the amounts of which are not measured by or dependent on hours worked, production or efficiency;

(2) payments made for occasional periods when no work is performed due to vacation, holiday, illness, failure of the employer to provide sufficient work, or similar cause; reasonable payments for traveling expenses or other expenses incurred by an employee in the furtherance of his employer's interest and properly reimbursable by the employer; and other similar payments to an employee which are not made as compensation for his hours of employment;

(3) contributions irrevocably made by an employer to a trustee or third person pursuant to a bona fide plan for providing old-age, retirement, life, accident or health insurance or similar benefits for employees;

(4) extra compensation provided by a premium rate paid for certain hours worked by the employee in any day or workweek because such hours are hours worked in excess of eight in a day or forty in a workweek or in excess of the employee's normal working hours or regular working hours as the case may be; or

(5) extra compensation provided by a premium rate paid for work by the employee on Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, or regular days of rest, or on the sixth day of the workweek, where such premium rate is not less than one and one-half times the rate established in good faith for like work performed in nonovertime hours on other days.

SECTION 5. POWERS OF COMMISSIONER IN INVESTIGATIONS OF CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT. The Commissioner or his authorized representative shall have authority to:

(a) enter and inspect the place of business or employment of any employer, in the State, for the purpose of examining and inspecting any or all books, registers, payrolls, and other records of any such employer that in any way relate to or have a bearing upon the question of wages, hours, and other conditions of employment of any employees; copy any of such books, registers, payrolls, and other records as he may deem necessary or appropriate; and question such employees for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the provisions of this Act and regulations issued thereunder have been and are being complied with; and

(b) require from such employer full and correct statements in writing, including sworn statements with respect to wages, hours, names, addresses, and such information pertaining to his employees as the Commissioner or his authorized representative may deem necessary or appropriate.

SECTION 6. ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS. For any occupation, the Commissioner, after consultation with the members of an advisory board appointed by him and composed of an equal number of not more than three representatives each of employers and employees in the occupation and not more than three disinterested persons representing the public, shall make and revise such administrative regulations, including definitions of terms, as he may deem appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act or necessary to prevent the circumvention of evasion thereof and to safeguard the minimum wage rates thereby established. Such regulations may include, but are not limited to, regulations defining and governing outside salesmen, learners and apprentices, their number, proportion, and length of service; part-time pay, piecework pay, bonuses; special pay for special or extra work; permitted charges to employees for allowances for meals, lodging, apparel, or other facilities or services customarily furnished by employers to employees; such allowances for each employee not to exceed fifty cents per day for meals and one dollar per day for lodging; and allowances for such other special conditions or circumstances which may be usual in a particular employer-employee relationship. Regulations or revisions thereof issued by the Commissioner pursuant to this section shall be made only after a public hearing by the Commissioner, subsequent to publication of notice of the hearing, at which any person may be heard. Such regulations or revisions shall, except as may otherwise be provided by the Commissioner, take effect upon publication. The Commissioner may pay the members of an advisory board as compensation for their services a reasonable per diem, in accordance with such regulations as he may prescribe, for each day on which they attend a meeting of the board or for each day they spend in the work of the board, and may in addition reimburse them for their necessary traveling expenses.

SECTION 7. HANDICAPPED WORKERS. The Commissioner may provide by regulations, after public hearing at which any person may be heard, for the employment in any occupation of individuals whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury at not less than a wage rate lower than the minimum wage rate provided in Section 3 as he may find appropriate to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to avoid undue hardship, and to safeguard the minimum wage rate under this Act. No employee shall be employed at a wage rate permitted pursuant to this Section except under a special license issued under applicable regulations of the Commissioner.

SECTION 8. WAGE RATES FOR LEARNERS AND APPRENTICES. For any occupation, the Commissioner may provide by regulation, after a public hearing at which any person may be heard, for the employment in such occupation of learners and apprentices at not less than a wage rate lower than the minimum wage rate provided in Section 3 as the Commissioner may find appropriate to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to avoid undue hardship, and to safeguard the minimum wage rate under this Act. No employee shall be employed at a wage rate permitted pursuant to this Section except under special license issued under applicable regulations of the Commissioner.

SECTION 9. KEEPING OF RECORDS. Every employer subject to any provision of this Act or of any regulation issued under this Act shall make, and keep for a period of not less than three years in or about the premises wherein any employee is employed, a record of the name, address, and occupation of each of his employees, the rate of pay, and the amount paid each pay period to each such employee, and such other information as the Commissioner shall prescribe by regulation as necessary or appropriate for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act or of the regulations thereunder. Such records shall be open for inspection or transcription by the Commissioner or his authorized representative at any reasonable time. Every such employer shall furnish to the Commissioner or to his authorized representative on demand a sworn statement of such records and information upon forms prescribed or approved by the Commissioner.

(b) Any employer who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employee because such employee has made any complaint to his employer, to the Commissioner, or his authorized representative, that he has not been paid minimum or overtime wages in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or because such employee has caused to be instituted or is about to cause to be instituted any proceeding under or related to this Act, or because such employee has testified or is about to testify in any such proceeding shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1000 dollars. For the purposes of this subsection, each violation shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION 10. POSTING OF LAW. Every employer subject to any provision of this Act or of any regulations issued under this Act shall keep a summary of this Act, approved by the Commissioner, and copies of any applicable regulations issued under this Act, or a summary of such regulations, posted in a conspicuous and accessible place in or about the premises wherein any person subject thereto is employed. Employers shall be furnished copies of such summaries and regulations by the State on request without charge.

SECTION 11. JUDICIAL REVIEW. (a) Any interested person in any occupation for which any administrative regulation has been issued under the provisions of this Act, who may be aggrieved by any such regulation, may obtain a review thereof in the Circuit Court of Pulaski County by filing in such court within twenty days after the date of publication of such regulation a written petition praying that the regulation be modified or set aside. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the Commissioner. The finding of facts, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive upon the court. The court shall determine whether the regulation is in accordance with law. If the court determines that such regulation is not in accordance with law, it shall remand the case to the Commissioner with directions to modify or revoke such regulations. If application is made to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence by any aggrieved party, such party shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material, and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence before the Commissioner. If the court finds that such evidence is material and that reasonable grounds exist for failure of the aggrieved party to adduce such evidence in prior proceedings, the court may remand the case to the Commissioner with directions that such additional evidence be taken before the Commissioner. The Commissioner may modify the findings and conclusions, in whole or in part, by reason of such additional evidence.

(b) Hearings in the Circuit Court on all appeals taken under the provisions of this Act shall be privileged and take precedence over all matters, except matters of the same character. The jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final except that the same shall be subject to review by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

(c) The commencement of proceedings under subsection (a) shall not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of an administrative regulation issued under the provisions of this Act. The court shall not grant any stay of an administrative regulation unless the person complaining of such regulation shall file in the court an undertaking with a surety or sureties satisfactory to the court for the payment to the employees affected by the regulation, in the event such regulation is affirmed, of the amount by which the compensation such employees are entitled to receive under the regulation exceeds the compensation they actually receive while such stay is in effect.

SECTION 12. PENALTIES. (a) Any employer who hinders or delays the Commissioner or his authorized representative in the performance of his duties in the enforcement of this Act, or refuses to admit the Commissioner or his authorized representative to any place of employment, or fails to make, keep and preserve any records as required under the provisions of this Act, or falsifies any such record, or refuses to make any such record accessible to the Commissioner or his authorized representative upon demand, or refuses to furnish sworn statement of such record or any other information required for the proper enforcement of this Act to the Commissioner or his authorized representative upon demand, or fails to post a summary of this Act or a copy of any applicable regulations as required by Section 10 of this Act, or pays or agrees to pay minimum or overtime wages at a rate less than the rate applicable under this Act, or otherwise violates any provision of this Act or of any regulation issued under this Act, shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1000 dollars. For the purposes of this subsection, each violation shall constitute a separate offense.

(b) Any employer who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employee because such employee has made any complaint to his employer, to the Commissioner, or his authorized representative, that he has not been paid minimum or overtime wages in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or because such employee has caused to be instituted or is about to cause to be instituted any proceeding under or related to this Act, or because such employee has testified or is about to testify in any such proceeding shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than $200 nor more than $2000 dollars.

SECTION 13. EMPLOYERS' REMEDIES. (a) Any employer who pays any employee less than the minimum or overtime wages to which such employee is entitled under or by virtue of this Act, shall be liable to such employee affected for the full amount of such wages, less any amount actually paid to such employee by the employer, and for costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court. Any agreement between such employee and the employer to work for less than such wages shall be no defense to such action.

(b) At the request of any employee paid less than minimum or overtime wages to which he is entitled under or by virtue of this Act, the Commissioner may take an assignment of such wage claim in trust for the assigning employee and may bring any legal action necessary to collect such claim, and the employer shall be required to pay the costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court.

SECTION 14. RELATION TO OTHER LAWS. (a) As of the date of enactment of this Act, Arkansas Statutes 81-613 through 81-619 (1947) relating to minimum wages of female workers, are repealed.

(b) Any standards relating to minimum wages, maximum hours, overtime compensation, or other working conditions in effect under any other law of this State or under any law of the United States on the effective date of this Act which are more favorable to employees than those applicable to such employees under this Act or the regulations issued hereunder, shall not be deemed to be amended, rescinded, or otherwise affected by this Act but shall continue in full force and effect and may be enforced as provided by law unless and until they are specifically superseded by standards more favorable to such employees by operation of or in accordance with regulations issued under this Act.

SECTION 15. RIGHT OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to interfere with, impede or in any way diminish the right of employees to bargain collectively with their employers through representatives of their own choosing in order to establish wages or other conditions of work in excess of the applicable minimum under the provisions of this Act.

SECTION 16. SEPARABILITY. If any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application thereof to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 17. SHORT TITLE. This Act shall be known as the "Arkansas Minimum Wage and Overtime Act."

SECTION 18. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its adoption by a majority vote of the electors voting on the question of the adoption of said Act cast in the general election in which said Act is submitted to vote of the people.
